We are writing to request that you meet with us in person about the energy crisis affecting our home and neighbors, as well as our whole state. Today we received a letter from General Campbell, but it does not cover all our concerns and we feel it is still critical to discuss these issues with you personally.

The community of Juneau faces a steep increase in our electricity costs due to losing 1.5 miles of line and several transmission towers from our hydroelectric power plant at Snettisham. It has been estimated that our electricity costs will be increased by 500% for one month and 350% for two additional months.

The economic impact this will have on our residents, small businesses, and nonprofit organizations is huge. A small business that normally has a $1,000 electric bill will have $9,000 in additional costs that were not budgeted, and a household which normally has a $100 electric bill during the spring months will have $900 in additional costs. Very few businesses and households have the money available to fill that gap.

Our offices have been contacted by cozens of citizens and businesses who are deeply concerned about their ability to survive the increase. In addition, we are incredibly concerned about our local school district, which estimates its additional energy costs to be in the neighborhood of $400,000, money we are sure everyone would rather see spent on textbooks and teachers.

While we have not seen these increases yet, the entire community is poised on the edge and we are readying ourselves for this hit. We know the impact will be devastating. We expect the three-month crises will extract $18-20 million from Juneau's economy in direct costs alone.

We are very aware of the energy crisis facing all of Alaska. We want to be part of the solution, and we think we have worthwhile ideas that will lead us forward. We hope that you will bee with us so that together we can work to help not only Juneau, but our whole state.

Sincerely, Senator Kim Elton, Representative Beth Kerttula, Representative Andrea Doll

Mike,

Would it be possible to include Randy Ruraro on Judge Interviews towards the end of May? I do a lot of research on these building up to the actual calls but it would be great to have an attorney's sense in the actual interview.

I haven't run it by the Gov nor have I asked Randy, but wanted to get your sense. We don't have a date yet but Mike, the Gov and I typically do these by phone towards the end of the 45 day window (end of this month).

Thanks.

Dear Mayor McDonald, Houston Council Members, Houston residents,

With the high cost of fuel oil and the detrimental impact this will have on heating our homes and skyrocketing cost to commute to work, as a council, it would be prudent and responsible for Houston to follow Fairbanks lead. Both for the short term and long term benefits for our community and the Valley.

As a council do we wait until our residents have to decide if they buy food to feed their family's or fuel to heat their homes? Its time to take the lead working with the Borough, State and business's to create alternatives. Houston has the opportunity to be leaders in Alaska for alternative fuels for heating homes, business's and producing electricity.

Houston is what Wasilla was 15 years ago. It is not a matter of IF we will grow but when this growth will come. Having a planning commission in place to work with business to create alternatives for our community is a must.

There is no overnight cure for the rising cost of fuel and as a council, it is time to roll up our sleeves to do our part to make alterative solutions available for the residents of Houston.

Sincerely,

Roger Purcell

Subject: Status of Juneau road Corps permit

Randy,

I was pleased to read in the Juneau Empire this morning that Governor Palin is not in favor of starting the Juneau Access Road in the light of so many unanswered questions regarding its full costs. I did want to clarify one point, however. This past Tuesday, May 6, the Environmental Protection Agency received a draft Clean Water Act section 404 permit for the Juneau Access road from the Army Corps of Engineers. The EPA now has 15 days (until May 21) to review the permit and approve it, make additional recommendations, or, if EPA has serious issues with it, "elevate" the decision so that it will be decided at a future time at the Washington, D.C. level. The dispute resolution process can be read at http://www.epa.gov/owow/wetlands/regs/dispmoa.html.

In order to issue the section 404 permit, the Corps must determine that there are no less environmentally damaging practicable alternatives to the one DOT has proposed. It is unclear whether the Corps can defensibly reach that conclusion because there are other, practicable alternatives that would have fewer adverse effects. For example, the Department of Transportation (DOT) could reconfigure the existing ferry system for the Lynn Canal area to meet periods of high demand. Further, DOT could accomplish huge savings by operating a ferry from Yankee Cove, as Coeur Alaska currently does, rather than the Katzehin River Delta.

In addition to the legal hurdles that the project still faces, DOT has yet to calculate realistic cost estimates. Specifically, DOT has not completed the geotechnical analysis for this project. Over a year ago, DOT terminated their contract with geotechnical consultant Golder and Associates for engineering analysis of the the most difficult 20-plus miles of the proposed road route. (I am attaching Golder's testimony to this effect before the Senate Transportation Committee hearing in February 2008.) Without this analysis, state and federal agencies cannot know the full costs or impacts of the project. In light of the fact that the terrain is as challenging and avalanche prone as the Snettisham area, it seems only prudent to have an accurate idea as to how much it will cost the State to build and maintain a road in the proposed corridor.

Mayor Weinstein of Ketchikan suggested in a recent letter (attached) to Commissioner Von Scheben that this cancellation of the geotechnical analysis was a deliberate effort to conceal from the agencies and the public the true costs of this project.

Governor Palin has indicated that she is concerned about the costs associated with the project and wishes to take a fiscally conservative approach to these kinds of big projects. It would therefore make sense for DOT, during the months and perhaps years it takes to resolve the legal issues, to complete the geotechnical analysis for all areas of the proposed corridor and provide the State and people of Alaska with an accurate cost estimate.

Should you or the Governor have questions regarding the EPA permit review process, Chris Meade is the local Juneau EPA contact at 586-7622. The decision to "elevate" the permit will be made by EPA Region X Administrator Elin Miller in Seattle in concert with the Assistant Administrator for Water, Ben Grumbles in D.C. If the Governor were interested in contacting Ms. Miller, she can be reached at 206-553-1234.

If I can be of any other assistance, my cell number is 907-612-0702.

Hope you have a great weekend.

Sincerely,

Jan Wrentmore

I just received word that all Prudhoe Bay field facilities have been brought back on-line. BP received a lot of assistance from both Conoco and Ayeska.

Production is beginning to ramp back up.

I should get another update tomorrow and will forward. Have a great weekend!

I'd like to include Randy Ruaro on judge interviews end of this month if that's ok.

Mike,

Would it be possible to include Randy Ruraro on Judge Interviews towards the end of May? I do a lot of research on these building up to the actual calls but it would be great to have an attorney's sense in the actual interview.

I haven't run it by the Gov nor have I asked Randy, but wanted to get your sense. We don't have a date yet but Mike, the Gov and I typically do these by phone towards the end of the 45 day window (end of this month).

Thanks.

Governor - This just came in as a scheduling request. I have attached the original signed letter. Janice

05.09.08

We are writing to request that you meet with us in person about the energy crisis affecting our home and neighbors, as well as our whole state. Today we received a letter from General Campbell, but it does not cover all our concerns and we feel it is still critical to discuss these issues with you personally.

The community of Juneau faces a steep increase in our electricity costs due to losing 1.5 miles of line and several transmission towers from our hydroelectric power plant at Snettisham. It has been estimated that our electricity costs will be increased by 500% for one month and 350% for two additional months.

The economic impact this will have on our residents, small businesses, and nonprofit organizations is huge. A small business that normally has a $1,000 electric bill will have $9,000 in additional costs that were not budgeted, and a household which normally has a $100 electric bill during the spring months will have $900 in additional costs. Very few businesses and households have the money available to fill that gap.

Our offices have been contacted by cozens of citizens and businesses who are deeply concerned about their ability to survive the increase. In addition, we are incredibly concerned about our local school district, which estimates its additional energy costs to be in the neighborhood of $400,000, money we are sure everyone would rather see spent on textbooks and teachers.

While we have not seen these increases yet, the entire community is poised on the edge and we are readying ourselves for this hit. We know the impact will be devastating. We expect the three-month crises will extract $18-20 million from Juneau's economy in direct costs alone.

We are very aware of the energy crisis facing all of Alaska. We want to be part of the solution, and we think we have worthwhile ideas that will lead us forward. We hope that you will bee with us so that together we can work to help not only Juneau, but our whole state.

Sincerely, Senator Kim Elton, Representative Beth Kerttula, Representative

Governor, We all have a packed week yet it would be good to listen to them very early in the week. They could have an idea we should consider. Any chance of a 30 minute video conference on Monday from Anch to Juneau so no one has to travel? Tom

Governor - This just came in as a scheduling request. I have attached the original signed letter. Janice

05.09.08

We are writing to request that you meet with us in person about the energy crisis affecting our home and neighbors, as well as our whole state. Today we received a letter from General Campbell, but it does not cover all our concerns and we feel it is still critical to discuss these issues with you personally.

The community of Juneau faces a steep increase in our electricity costs due to losing 1.5 miles of line and several transmission towers from our hydroelectric power plant at Snettisham. It has been estimated that our electricity costs will be increased by 500% for one month and 350% for two additional months.

The economic impact this will have on our residents, small businesses, and nonprofit organizations is huge. A small business that normally has a $1,000 electric bill will have $9,000 in additional costs that were not budgeted, and a household which normally has a $100 electric bill during the spring months will have $900 in additional costs. Very few businesses and households have the money available to fill that gap.

Our offices have been contacted by cozens of citizens and businesses who are deeply concerned about their ability to survive the increase. In addition, we are incredibly concerned about our local school district, which estimates its additional energy costs to be in the neighborhood of $400,000, money we are sure everyone would rather see spent on textbooks and teachers.

While we have not seen these increases yet, the entire community is poised on the edge and we are readying ourselves for this hit. We know the impact will be devastating. We expect the three-month crises will extract $18-20 million from Juneau's economy in direct costs alone.

We are very aware of the energy crisis facing all of Alaska. We want to be part of the solution, and we think we have worthwhile ideas that will lead us forward. We hope that you will bee with us so that together we can work to help not only Juneau, but our whole state.

Sincerely, Senator Kim Elton, Representative Beth Kerttula, Representative Andrea Doll

Governor-

Pat from the Empire would like to know about baby gifts. He wants to know if you expect a lot and what would you do if you have a bunch of extras. If you were thinking of donating or didn't want to be inundated with stuff I could tell him - The Governor appreciates all of the well wishes she has received so far and encourages folks to donate to XXX or XXX.

Thoughts?

Thank you Randy,

I agree with this strategy and we'll have everybody in place for the meeting. I'll talk about this Monday at our meeting. Dianne, John et. all will be in attendance. I just saw Talis up here in Fairbanks. Sandra is walking for her Masters in education and I didn't know, but Talis is walking for his Doctorate also. I'm impressed with both of them.

Joe
